SOCIETY NEWS OF OTHER TOWNS

Mound Crossing

The school closing at this place on last Thursday was a little ahead of any like occurrence Mound Crossing. Special has experienced. Before noon one end of the school room was literally filled with baskets full of good things. At the noon hour a large table was loaded down with all the good things that tickle the palate and satisfy hunger. Rev. Ward of the M. E. Church from Tarleton being present returned thanks to the Giver of all good things, for the bounteous feast spread before them, after which all did ample justice to themselves. W. L. Rome and Joe Brashares were voted the champion cake eaters. They devoured the good things as though they had been whetting their teeth on a piece of railroad iron after having been shut up for two weeks in a coal mine. The afternoon was given over to hearing recitations, declamations, dialogues, etc. by the scholars, after which Rev. Ward made a short address full of good advice to the scholars, also a short address by the teacher, J. C. Hillard, which ended the program for the day, followed by a grand entertainment at night at which the house was filled to overflowing, many not being able to gain admittance. Mr. Hillard has taught two most successful terms here, having at all times the best of order without resorting to the rod once, and not a single complaint in the district. The Board of Education by an unanimous vote tendered him the school for next winter.

Mrs. Joe H. White has recovered from the gripe and has rolled up her sleeves and is giving Joe a few lessons in gardening.

Ines Rome and sister Grace, were shopping at this place Saturday.

Joe Brashares still keeps a hired hand, giving most of his time to playing with his little son. Joe says he is just a little cuter than any other baby.

Dan Bigham has purchased a new rubber-tire automobile-seated buggy. He has recently purchased a fine driving horse.

Ezra Fox, of Lancaster, and grandson, Curtis Heimberger, are keeping batch in the house formerly occupied by David Lutz.

Jacob Clark has become John Rome's right hand man. Jake is one of the most particular and best working hands John ever had.

Nellie, daughter of M. V. Heavers, who has been so seriously afflicted with tonsillitis, has so far recovered as to go about, again.

On Sunday evening, May the 9th, Joe Chambers, of near Middlefork, and Myrtle Stump, of the place, were quietly married at Adelphi. They intended to keep the matter a secret for a year or two, but such glib events can't be kept.

Skunk Hollow

Well, as there has been several correspondents asking after the health of Old Crupper and asking what had become of me, must say I was sick and my duck hatched one goose and it died, so now I will squeeze in edgeways and say a little again.

John H. Wagner was a Logan visitor, Saturday on business.

Mrs. M. Walter and children called on Mrs. Will Kernmiller, Tuesday of last week.

Daniel Ruff and wife, of Topeka Kas., visited C. W. Walter, Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Clara A. Wagner was a business caller to Bremen, Tuesday of last week.

Say people! did you hear a noise a week ago like tearing a slate roof off of a house, Old Crupper heard it and when he investigated it was nothing but the stork paying a visit, through the roof, to Ed Klump and wife and leaving a sweet little daughter to brighten their future days and also to pull Ed's mustache. Ed claims there is not another baby in Hocking Co. like her, as she is the first visitor that came to brighten their home.

Frank Miller gave a dance for the young people, Saturday night. Seth H. Sollenberger and Herbert Tipple were the fiddlers; all report a grand time.

Jacob Daubenmire is farming for C. W. Walter at present.

Old Crupper takes this method of telling his friends that he will never promise to visit them any more and that when he is able he will not send word ahead or make a promise, but just drop in any time, then he won't disappoint any one and above everything else he don't want to have hard feelings.

Seth W. Sollenberger and wife entertained the following, Sunday in honor of Mrs. Sollenberger's 70th birthday: J. L. Sollenberger, wife and family, of Lancaster; Simeon Evans and wife, of Lan-cast, George Burnside, wife and children, of Sugar Grove, and John Wagner, wife and family, of Skunk Hollow. After partaking of a very sumptuous dinner the afternoon was spent in fishing, boat riding, playing games and the big feature of the day was a big graphophone brought by Mrs. J. L. Sollenberger. After supper all returned home, wishing Mr. Sollenberger and wife many more happy years of wedded life and many more birthdays.

John Wagner says there is nothing like fishing, he says when he is married he is going to have fish three times a day.

I saw in the paper, where Carbonhill and Marion No. 2 would like to have all us correspondents have a reunion and get our mugs in the paper, I second the motion of having a reunion, but I don't second the motion of having our picture in the paper and simply because Old Crupper is all nose and you couldn't see any one else but crupper's nose and Yankee Hollow scribe has a broken nose, so you see we two think a lot of our mugs and don't like to expose them to ridicule.

Rhoda Tipple had chicken and noodles for dinner and was so kind as to offer Old Crupper a drum stick if he would come after it, Thursday, but as Old Crupper was not insured there was meat on it, he declined with thanks and Rhoda will have to try him again.

Ed Ruff, our genial assessor was circulating in our hollow, one day last week, he careful Ed or you might get a broom stick brandished over your head like our former assessor John Wagner did, better take a little advice of Old Crupper.

Mrs. Sol Wagner, of Lancaster, visited Mrs. John Wagner, one day last week. They had a grand time as they had not seen one another for a year.

Mrs. John Ellinger, of Amanda, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ed Klump for a few days.

Hello Good Hope, will you please tell me in next week's paper, the given name of P. Evans, of Thurston, you will greatly oblige me if you will for I believe it is someone I am well acquainted with.

I saw in the paper where Lewis-Elick makes tracks to Bunker Hill and also where he was warned that Jack might have a gun, yes indeed Lewis that is so, either a gun or a bottle of hay rum.

Manuel Walter says he can't smoke very much during the day as he is busy plowing and planting. I make a motion that Manuel take his pipe to bed with him and smoke all night, who seconds the motion.

Fred Gruner is working for Ed Klump for a few weeks.

Henry Ellinger called on John Wagner, one day last week.

Hannah Ellinger called on her brother David Ellinger, Wednesday of last week.

Fred Gruner says his dog is so full of insects that he would like all the DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL scribes to come to his house on a day set for the purpose of picking fleas from off that dog.

Well, Good Hope, I didn't mean any offense nor did I eat sour razor soup, but I will eat dinner with you in the near future.

Mrs. John Wagner called on Mrs. Jake Engle, one day last week.

Mrs. John Kernmiller is very poorly at this writing.

Old Crupper had a cramp of the stomach, one day last week, and he says that instead of eating razor soup he thought he swallowed a razor or an ax.

Ed Miller still makes a path toward Jacob Ellinger's.

Mrs. John Wagner visited Mrs. C. W. Walters, one day last week.

Hello J. J. Kull, of Reno Pa., I can't resist the temptation of rigging you a little; you have another guess coming of who I am as you wrote to the wrong one. I will drop you a letter in the near future and surprise you in more ways than one for I see you have forgot me or you would write.

Seth H. Sollenberger and John Wagner were busy fishing Friday, but didn't catch anything but "skeeter" bites.

Kate Wagner was a visitor at her grandparents, of Good Hope, recently.

Seth H. Sollenberger and comrade John Miller were Bremen visitors, Wednesday.

Geo. Miller is visiting his sister, Caroline Ulmer, of Skunk Hollow, for a few weeks.

Well, as I didn't have very much to say this time and with the Editor's kind permission I may come again when I get my breath.

OLD CRUPPER.

Carbonhill

Editor DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL—Dear Sir, as I have decided to change locations very soon and am not in position to gather news any longer for you, I shall be glad to resign as your Correspondent any longer from Carbonhill, and will kindly request you to send the DEMOCRAT-SENTINEL to me at McArthur in care of box 311, and the first dollar I find rolling up hill I will pay for the paper, I will begin work Monday May 17, at McArthur and just as soon as possible, I will move my family. We expect to rent till October, then will move into our own home, till the pale horse and rider carries us out. I wish to say concerning our gathering news for the paper that we endeavored to tell the truth regardless of the consequence, and to do my duty as a scribe without fear or favors and to hope that someone will succeed me and follow in the same channel for I would not give the half of two burials for a person that sees a wrong and hasn't got the eternal grit to expose it. My sojourn in this village of 8 years has been very pleasant to me, and we can truthfully say that we leave the town as we found it with the confidence, good will and esteem of all the law abiding citizens of the town, and have no apologies nor regrets to make for we expect to pursue exactly the same course in our new home as we have here. We will now close by asking someone to gather news from this place so we may keep in touch with doings of the town, and to the Editor and his staff and all the scribes we extend a hearty invitation to come and see us, Good-bye to all.

She was about 39 years old, and esteemed by all who came in contact with her. She had been subject to head aches, and on Thursday took a head ache powder. In a few minutes she told her mother she was feeling so numb in her arms, and in getting up and starting to the couch she fell to the floor and before aid could reach her she was dead. Her funeral was held in Logan, Saturday from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Wilson officiating. A strange coincidence was that her brother, an operator, was killed by the train just seven years ago to a day.
